OF THE

CITY OF DETROIT,

FOR 1863-'4.

DETROIT:

COMPILED AND PUBLISHED BY CHARLES F. CLARK,

53 GRISWOLD STREET.

P R E F A C E .

We herewith present to the public the second number of "CLARK'S ANNUAL DIRECTORY OF THE CITY OF DETROIT," trusting that, like the former edition, its merits will be appreciated, while its errors will be kindly overlooked. We do not claim that the work is perfect, for that were impossible; but that it has been done as well as it were possible to do it during the time occupied for its publication, we justly believe.

It will be gratifying to all those who have the welfare of our beautiful city at heart, to know that notwithstanding the fact that a large number have left the workshops, the stores and the counting rooms, to fill the ranks of the army (and from other causes), the number of names exceeds by some hundreds that of last year.

We believe that our efforts to publish a Directory promptly, are being appreciated by the majority of our citizens. We have supplied a map of the city in place of the history which we announced last year would be continued in this. We have also made some other changes which we regard as improvements, and which we trust will meet the approval of our patrons. Before our next issue we shall be in a position to make still further improvements, and shall then claim not to be surpassed by any Directory published in the United States. There are no statistics published which tell so accurately and truthfully the progress and development of a city as the Annual Directory—consequently there is no work which deserves or should receive a more liberal support.

We tender to the enterprising and liberal minded citizens who have given us their support in this work (their names can be easily distinguished by looking through the book) our sincere thanks, and trust to merit and receive a continuance of their favors.

CHARLES F. CLARK, Publisher.

MICHIGAN STATE GAZETTEER.

NOTICES OF THE PRESS.

"THIS is a volume of over 600 pages, exclusive of advertisements, and one which seems to be as near perfect as can be. It contains all the valuable features of a general State Gazetteer, with those of a complete State Business Directory. The first part, 150 pages, presents an elaborate history of the State as a whole, and detailed notices of all the counties. The second part, 350 pages, gives sketches of all the cities, towns and villages, arranged in alphabetical order; and each of these sketches is followed by a full business directory of the place,—professions, trades, pursuits, etc. The third part, 100 pages, is a CLASSIFIED Business Directory of the various trades, etc., arranged alphabetically by post offices. The fourth part, 60 pages, is occupied by advertisements, business cards, etc.—There are eighteen fine engravings, embracing the principal State institutions, etc. In short, the work presents full information regarding the mercantile and manufacturing interests of Michigan, in a pleasing and useful style, and the enterprise should receive the success it deserves.—Boston Commercial Bulletin.

THE MICHIGAN STATE GAZETTEER, published by Charles F. Clark, of the Detroit Commercial Advertiser, is a book not solely of a literary character, but worthy of the special attention of all business men hereabouts. It is a thorough description of Michigan, answering perhaps every ordinary question that could be asked relating to the State. The history is full, interesting and valuable for reference. Then follows the GAZETTEER or DIRECTORY, giving the business information needed about every village, town and county. An examination of this part of the work leads us to regard it as a wonder of Directory-making. If one desires to employ a lawyer in any town he will find him here. If it is a grocer or a dry goods merchant, a clergyman, a saloon keeper, a newspaper in which to advertise, a town clerk to write to for information, a question about railroads or steamboats, in short, if there is anything one wants to know about Michigan, it is in this book. We take it every insurance company and large business establishment in this city ought to have the Directory, and it should of course be in every hotel and public office.—N. Y. Journal of Commerce.

"THE work comprises upwards of 600 pages, and in every respect is executed in a manner which does credit to its publisher and to the State. Its matter is excellently arranged, neatly printed and well bound. It contains quite an elaborate history of the State, an alphabetical list of counties, a descriptive list of the cities, towns, villages and post offices, alphabetically arranged, an alphabetical list of post offices, a general business directory, etc."—Jonesville (Mich.) Independent.

"MICHIGAN STATE GAZETTEER.—We have received a copy of the Gazetteer and Business Directory for this State, just published by Charles F. Clark, Detroit. The work comprises upwards of 600 pages, and in every respect is executed in a manner which does credit to its publisher and the State. Its matter is excellently arranged, neatly printed and well bound. It contains quite an elaborate history of the State, an alphabetical list of counties, a descriptive list of the cities, towns, villages and post offices, alphabetically arranged, an alphabetical list of post offices, a general business directory, etc. So far as we have examined the work, we find it to be uncommonly correct for a work of its kind. We have had some little experience in the Gazetteer business, and do not hesitate to say that no Gazetteer has ever been published in the west which will surpass it in any particular, and none which will equal it in all."—Monroe (Mich.) Commercial.

"THIS is a work such as is needed by every business man in the State. It is full and complete, and contains a vast amount of information in regard to business men in the State, nowhere else to be found. There is a short history of every county, with a description of its soil and products. A description of every city and village, together with a list of the business men therein, properly classified, and all companies formed for any and every legitimate purpose, in fact, it is almost a perfect Vade Mecum." "The work is of large proportions, and contains a large amount of very valuable information and statistics. We cannot see how so much of the really valuable could be collected and compiled in so short a time, and know that it could not be done, but at an immense outlay of labor and expense."—Sanilac (Mich.) Jeffersonian.

There is probably no house west of New York City that enjoys a reputation more extended and enviable than that of Messrs. FARRAND, SHELEY & Co., of No. 80 Woodward Avenue, Detroit. For more than twenty years this concern has been in successful operation, and during all that time has maintained its position as one of the most enterprising, liberal and substantial firms in the country. The partners are men of large experience in the trade, and in the importation and purchase of their goods exercise a discrimination that secures to their customers the very best articles at the very lowest rates. The Drugs kept on hand at this establishment are preferred by retailers to those procured direct from Eastern cities; while the price at which they are offered effectually defies competition. City and country druggists, physicians and others in want of stocks of Drugs and Chemicals, should make it a point to call at the store of Messrs. F. S. & Co., before making their purchases elsewhere. The celebrated Fairbanks' Scales are also sold by this firm, at manufacturer's rates, and upwards of fifty different varieties are kept constantly on hand, at their warehouse, No. 10 Larned Street, east. Country merchants in want of Groceries, Drugs, Paints, Oils, Glass, or Scales, can find no better place in the Western States at which to make their purchases than at the well known establishment of Messrs. Farrand, Sheley & Co.—Editor.

DETROIT LOCOMOTIVE WORKS.—This Company has recently made important changes in its management, having secured the services of Mr. Benjamin Lathrop, as Secretary and Treasurer, and Mr. James W. Bartlett, as Superintendent of the Machine Shops, in place of Mr. T. S. Christie, late Secretary and Treasurer, and Mr. Cowie, late Superintendent of the Machine Shops. Mr. Lathrop, on whom devolves the principal management of the establishment, has for many years enjoyed at the East a high position as a man of varied scientific acquirements, as well as for his very thorough knowledge of the manufacture and practical workings of almost every variety of machinery now in use. Mr. Bartlett, principal machinist, comes very highly recommended from the Atlantic Works, of East Boston, Mass., where for the past fifteen years he has had extensive experience in the construction of marine, stationary, and mining engines, and machinery of every description. The extensive boiler shops, blacksmith shops, pattern shops and foundry will continue under the management of the gentlemen who have so ably conducted them heretofore. Among other additions recently made by this corporation to its facilities for manufacturing, we notice a very large planer—the largest, we are informed, in the West. This Company, having been in the active prosecution of their line of business for many years, have accumulated, and have now on hand, almost every variety of patterns, which, together with their other very superior facilities, enables them to fill orders with the utmost despatch for all kinds of steam engines and machinery, marine as well as stationary, including every variety of mining apparatus and well-gearing.

Among the heaviest hardware houses in the Western States, is that of Messrs. B. B. & W. R. NOYES, 86 Woodward Avenue, Detroit. The firm now occupy one of the largest stores in town, and have on hand an immense stock of general hardware goods, including hundreds of articles not enumerated in the advertisement above. Country merchants who have been in the habit of procuring their stocks in New York and other eastern cities, should pay a visit to this establishment, and learn the fact that they can have as good a stock to select from, and can purchase to as good advantage here as they can in the East. Many of the finer articles of cutlery offered for sale, were imported by the Messrs. NOYES, direct from Europe, expressly for the trade, and for price and quality set competition at defiance.—Editor.

DETROIT, - - MICHIGAN.

HARDWARE AND CUTLERY.—One of the oldest and most extensive hardware establishments in the Western States, is that of Messrs. BUHL & DUCHARME, Nos. 17 and 19 Woodward Avenue. Messrs. B. & D. are successors of A. H. Newbould, who established the hardware business in this city in the year 1837. Both the present proprietors are old and well known citizens of Detroit, to whose reputation as upright citizens and first-class business men, it would be impossible for us to add. Suffice it to say, that there is no business house of any kind in this country that enjoys a higher character. The concern now occupies two first-class stores, each four stories high, with cellars, and is doing a business of about four hundred thousand dollars per year. Twelve to fourteen salesmen and book-keepers are constantly employed about the establishment, in attending to the wants of customers. The stock in trade embraces a general assortment of hardware goods, cutlery, iron, nails, etc., comprising a much larger quantity of those articles than it is usual to find in Western hardware houses.—Editor.

☞ Messrs. CAMPBELL, LINN & CO., whose card appears above, are one of the oldest and most reliable Dry Goods houses in this city, having first commenced business here when Detroit was almost a rural village. The name of the "Scotch Store" has become as familiar to the denizens of this city (and of the state) as household words. They occupied a store on the corner of Woodward and Jefferson avenues for many years, but the increase of their business led them to erect the spacious store they now occupy on the corner of Woodward avenue and Congress street. They have a reputation fully established for the good QUALITY of their goods, which consists of Staple and Fancy Dry Goods and Millinery.—EDITOR.

DETROIT BUSINESS DIRECTORY.

DETROIT BUSINESS DIRECTORY.

It may be as well to forestall envious criticism, by reminding those who consult the following pages, that the primary aim and object of a Directory, properly so called, is to afford a ready means of ascertaining the address of any given citizen. This, as far as it lies in the power of human energy and care to do, has been accomplished in the preceding pages of this volume. In the following pages will be found a carefully arranged list of the professional, trading and manufacturing classes of Detroit. It will be seen that those who exhibit no interest in supporting the work, are represented in small type, under the single heading of their principal business. The names of the patrons of the work will be found displayed, under the various classifications of their business, in capital letters. On reflection, it must be admitted by every one, that this arrangement, so far from being invidious, is an eminently proper distinction, inasmuch as the subscription price of the work is below its actual cost of production; it is fitting that this, being an extra portion of the work, should be made available as a source of income to the publisher, and that the public should have an opportunity of discriminating between the enterprising and public spirited of our citizens, and those who seem to take less interest in a work of such general practical utility, which will naturally be regarded as a reflex of the business status of Detroit.
