PREFACE.

WE present to the public the Seventh Volume of our Annual DIRECTORY OF THE CITY OF DETROIT, which we trust will be found as correct and as reliable as any of our previous editions. We expect that it contains errors—for with our experience of seven years we have learned our fallibility—still we have spared neither expense or labor to make it as correct as possible, and we trust our efforts will be duly appreciated.

The list of names swells year by year, which very truthfully indicates the gradual increase of the population of the city, which at this time is about Seventy-Five Thousand.

Notwithstanding the increase is not so rapid as that of some sister cities in the West, we have the satisfaction of knowing that it is continuous, and that the improvements which are constantly going on renders it a real and not temporary prosperity.

A great defect still exists in the present system (or rather want of system) in numbering the houses. In many streets old and new numbers are interspersed in such a manner as to utterly confuse the canvasser, and has led to many seeming errors which would not otherwise have occurred. We cannot be held responsible for these, but it is a matter which we are glad to know is receiving the attention of the authorities.

We have prepared and printed this year a new STREET DIRECTORY, which shows at a glance the commencement, direction and ending of any street, and also all the intersecting streets. It will be found more complete and satisfactory than in former editions.

The City Register is replete with valuable information concerning the Municipal Government, the various Societies, Churches, etc., which exist in the city.

The Advertising Department has been this year, as last, under the direction of Mr. JACOB W. WEEKS, long connected with us in its publication. Although we have not met so hearty a response as formerly, and not so heartily as we feel the work deserves, we sincerely thank those who have given us their patronage, and trust they will be fully recompensed by the increase of their business, gained by the publicity which the circulation of the book gives.

With the trust that the present volume may prove acceptable, and that next year we shall present our eighth volume with still greater improvements and still more perfect,

We remain,

CHARLES F. CLARK,
Publisher.

To sound an alarm for fire, first open the circuit, which is done by turning the small handle off from the button near the centre of the instrument board; this will cause the hammer to sound upon the gong, showing that the instrument is in circuit and the line in working order.

Then with the key at the bottom of the instrument board sound ten (10), which is an alarm for fire, then pause, and then sound the number of the box.

These must be given three times in the order stated, as follows:

Sound the alarm 1 1 1 1 1 1 1 1 1 (pause).

If the number of the box is 24, sound 1 1 (pause), 1 1 1 1, or if the number of the box is 43, sound 1 1 1 1 (pause) 1 1 1.

The pauses should be but about two seconds, or the time in which a person would ordinarily count three.

Care should be taken that the operation is distinct and at regular intervals.

After sounding the alarm and the number of the box as above directed, wait a few moments, and if it has not been distinctly understood, a call may be made from some other locality for "repeat," which is 231, thus: 1 1 (pause) 1 1 1 (pause) 1. This being heard in the instrument, the alarm and number of the box must all be given again, as first directed.

Before locking the box, close the circuit, by turning the small handle on to the button near the centre of the instrument board; this must in all cases be done, and in no event must the circuit be left open.

The boxes must not be opened except to sound an alarm for fire, and persons who are entrusted with the keys to the boxes are requested to report to the office of the Board of Fire Commissioners when any accident occurs either to the instrument or boxes, or if any unauthorized persons are found tampering with them.

COMPOUND ELECTRO-MAGNETIC

HOT AND COLD AIR BATHS

PATENTED MAY 14th, 1867.

 This is the most ingenious and efficient apparatus for applying electricity in combination with a sweating bath, and is far superior in every respect to what they have heretofore been. Try the Hot and Cold Air Baths, and judge for yourselves of their merits as a curative and health-preserving agent, as a beautifier and luxury. Its beneficial effects in the Cure of COUGHS and COLDS, RHEUMATISM, NEURALGIA, etc., has been a tested by thousands. As a means of securing Cleanliness of Skin and Purification of the Blood, it has no equal, and consequently it stands unrivaled as a PREVENTIVE OF THE CHOLERA, and every other known disease. These Baths are now open to the public. They combine thorough ventilation; a mild heat of any required degree.

BATHING HOURS FROM 6 A. M. TO 9 P. M.

 TEN TICKETS FOR $10.00; FIVE TICKETS FOR $6.00; SINGLE TICKETS, $1.50.

The Detroit Post

Is the Largest Newspaper printed in Michigan, and contains the greatest amount and variety of carefully edited reading matter. The Company publishing it is composed of between two and three hundred Stockholders, who reside in every section of the State, and are among the most active and influential Republicans and business men, each of whom is personally interested in promoting its success, and who together constitute a corps of Agents such as no other paper in the country possesses. Through continued effort, judicious outlays, and the employment at corresponding rates of a better order of talent in every department than any of its State cotemporaries have chosen to engage, it has gradually drawn ahead of its rivals until it confessedly ranks, at home and abroad, as the leading and most influential representative of public opinion in Michigan, and one of the soundest and most efficient journals in the Northwest. Neither pains nor expense will be spared to maintain its superiority.

THE CIRCULATION OF THE POST

Is mainly in Michigan, but it has subscribers in nearly every State of the Union, and especially in those of the Northwest. The high standard which the paper has been ambitious to maintain has secured for it a class of readers second to none in America in intelligence and character, and its peculiar excellence as a COMMERCIAL JOURNAL—a department in which it expends more money and labor than any of its cotemporaries—makes it almost a necessity to every business man in the State; while its enterprise and merits as a general newspaper create for it a constantly increasing demand from news dealers, through the mails, and among the population of Detroit. In the character of its readers, and the extent of its circulation—which is steadily growing larger and larger—it is believed that THE POST presents an ADVERTISING MEDIUM unequalled in Michigan.

Detroit Business Directory.

TO THE PUBLIC.

For six years the publisher of the Directory advertised, under classified heads, the entire mass of the business community; the larger proportion of whom have steadily refused to support the work, under the plea that it is of no use to them. Tired of such unrecompensing, and if this large number of persons are to be believed, useless labor, the publisher places in the Business Directory only the names of such persons as extend patronage to the volume, convinced that those who contribute yearly to the permanency of the publication are justly entitled to all such incidental advantages as the scope of the volume affords, over those who find no individual use in the publication.

By this course the value of the volume is not in the slightest degree lessened as a book of reference, the names of all citizens being found in the General Directory, under their proper letter, to which all persons desiring to find them will naturally turn. The sole difference being in the fact that strangers, desiring to visit among particular classes of business, will be, in the Business Directory, referred to such only as are supporters of the Directory; merely a slight business advantage, eagerly seized on by enterprising business men, however, and likely to repay largely the small price for a year's subscription of the book; but to such as have no use for a Directory, an undesirable matter.
