INTRODUCTORY.

1895 brings The Detroit City Directory to its 59th year of publication with such improvements as have been suggested during the past year.

In the street guide the intersections are shown in prominent type, which can be distinguished at a glance. On several streets recently numbered, are given the names of residents not heretofore included in the Householders' Directory. The map is corrected up to date, and includes all the new lines of street railway. The street guide on the map is complete and shows all new streets and changes in street names.

Names and changes of addresses received too late for regular insertion are inserted on pages 19 to 26. Pages 39 to 107 include a variety of miscellaneous information, such as names of city officers and terms of office, ward boundaries, officers and principal data of the Police Department, Fire Department, Water Works, County Officers, Asylums and Hospitals, Secret, Benevolent and Professional Societies, Churches, Schools, Courts, Banks, Corporations, etc., etc.

The directory of names begins at page 201, and ends at 1470. The Householders' Directory and Street Guide begins on page 1477. All householders' names are given in the order of street number, the streets being arranged alphabetically. Telephone holders are indicated by a double dagger.

The classified business portion begins on page 1829 and covers 239 pages, and gives the names of all persons and firms classified under alphabetically arranged headings of the business in which they are engaged, so that the number and names in any line may be readily found.

POPULATION.

Exclusive of firms, deaths and removals, the names in this issue of the directory number 117,577. Multiplying this by 3, the usual multiple, we have an estimated population of 352,731—an increase of 21,843 over last year.

In support of the use of 3 as a multiple, a table is given below, showing the U. S. census of 1890, and number of names in the directories of 5 other large cities and estimated population on basis of 3 persons to each name, which is evidently not too large for the cities named and may properly be adopted for Detroit.

	Number of Names in Directory.	Estimated Population.	U. S. Census.
Baltimore, 1890.....	140,016	420,048	434,439
Buffalo, 1890.....	82,381	247,143	255,664
Cincinnati, 1890.....	93,512	280,536	296,968
Cleveland, 1890.....	86,734	260,202	261,353
St. Louis, 1890.....	155,400	466,200	451,770

It is presumed that the foregoing does not include the suburbs of any of the cities mentioned.

Still further warrant for using the multiple 3, may be found in the fact that in 1870 and 1880 it produced a result agreeing very closely with the census. Since then the directory estimate has been considerably greater than the official figures, but it is thought that this excess can be accounted for by the fact that the census is necessarily confined within the city limits, while the directory includes all the immediate suburbs which are practically part of the city. It must also be borne in mind that there have been grave doubts as to the correctness of the official count. The figures for the U. S. census years from 1870 are as follows:

	Number of Names. in Directory.	Estimated Population.	Official Census.	Directory.
1870.....	24,840	74,520	79,603	Deficit— 5,083
1880.....	45,800	137,400	116,340	Excess—21,060
1890.....	91,500	274,500	205,876	Excess—68,624

It will be noticed that the directory excess in 1880 was only 21,060, which could easily be accounted for in the suburbs. In 1890 the difference was much greater than the probable population of the suburbs at that time, but the census return for that year was then generally discredited and believed to be several thousand short of what it should have been. The directory figures may therefore, reasonably be accepted as being very nearly correct.

There are some who place more confidence in the Water Board census, but that is based upon the U. S. census, and is, therefore, subject to the same objections.

BUILDING.

In building improvements there has been a gain in the first six months of 1895, as compared with the corresponding period in 1894.

The figures for the past five years are as follows:

	New Buildings.	Alterations.
1890.....	$4,932,605	$441,875
1891.....	5,015,900	641,800
1892.....	5,097,700	629,600
1893.....	3,884,525	508,400
1894.....	3,876,025	485,000
Six months, ending June 30, 1895.....	2,863,000	222,100

The cost of the large buildings recently completed or now under construction is as follows: Chamber of Commerce, $500,000; new Postoffice and Custom House building, $1,500,000; Union Trust building, $600,000; Mabley building, $750,000; Central High School, $350,000; Masonic Temple, $250,000.

STREET CAR LINES.

On August 1st, the new street car company had completed 30 miles of railway and intend to build 40 more during the next 12 months.

Electricity has been adapted to about 50 miles of the old company's lines, and the company promises to place it on all of their lines within a year. The electric road to Mt. Clemens is now in full operation. When the present proposed tracks are finished, the city will have upwards of 220 miles of street railway—all of which will be operated by electricity.

PAVING.

During 1894 the total pavement laid was 19½ miles, of which 1½ were asphalt, 3½ brick, and 14½ cedar block. The total mileage of pavement in the city July 1, 1895, was 214½ miles, as follows: Asphalt, 18; brick, 13; stone, 9; granite, 1¾; wood, with stone gutter, 65½; cedar block, 107; other kinds, 8-10 mile.

PUBLIC LIBRARY.

The Free Public Library contained July 1, 1895, in round numbers, 133,000 volumes and 12,000 pamphlets, and the number is increasing rapidly.

ASSESSED VALUATION.

According to the assessment made during the first six months of 1895, the value was: Real estate, $102,513,410; buildings, $60,041,100; personal, $47,031,820; total, $209,586,330, against $209,151,220 for the corresponding assessment in 1894, or an increase of $435,110.

The tax levy for 1895 was $3,281,448.62, being based on a rate of $1.57 on $100, against $1.58 for 1894.

DIRECTIONS AND INSTRUCTIONS FOR TELEGRAPHING FIRE ALARMS.

Keys are left with the occupants of buildings in the vicinity of each fire alarm box, and it is designated at the same where they can be found. The members of the police force also possess keys.

The following will be observed when a fire is discovered.

I. Go to the box, open the door, and pull the hook down as far as it will go, firmly and without jerking, and let it slide back.

II. If the alarm is not heard upon the City Hall bell, go to the next nearest box to the fire and repeat the operation.

III. If, on going to a box to give an alarm, the City Hall bell is heard striking otherwise than the hour (which is an indication that an alarm is being sent over the lines), do not open the box until it has done striking. In all such cases count the signal which is being sounded, and be certain it is not for the same fire.

Keyholders are cautioned:

- I. To not open the box except in case of fire.
2. To not give an alarm until certain of a fire.
3. To not give an alarm for a fire seen at a distance.

4. To pull down the hook but once in giving an alarm.
5. To be sure, after giving an alarm, that the door is securely closed before leaving the box.
6. To not let the key go out of their possession except when demanded by proper authority.
7. Keyholders, if removing their place of business or residence, are requested to return the key to the Fire Commissioners' Office.
8. Wait at the box and direct the firemen to the fire.

Detroit Business University

(Goldsmith, Bryant and Stratton Business University, Spencerian Business College, and Mayhew Business College consolidated.)

Occupies the Elegant New Business University Building,

11, 13, 15, 17 & 19 Wilcox Ave. (Formerly Grand River East) Cor. Barclay Place,
DETROIT, MICH.

THIS INSTITUTION was established in 1850, has had over 30,000 students in attendance, and over 1,000 during the past year. The mission of this institution is to educate young men and women for useful and honorable independence. The University is composed of a "College of Business," "School of Shorthand," "School of Penmanship," "School of Mechanical and Architectural Drawing," and "English Training School." Each is a complete school in itself, and all combined form the Business University.

College of Business.—In the course of study in this we make a specialty of those branches that are essential to success in the every-day business of life.

Branches taught—Business Writing, rapid and plain—Bookkeeping, single and double entry—Business Arithmetic, short methods—Commercial Law, enough knowledge for safe management of business—Business Correspondence, concise in expression—Spelling, inculcating the correct spelling of words—Actual Business practice, Board of Trade work, office work, etc., etc.

School of Shorthand and Type-writing.—Shorthand as taught here, is as easy to learn as the common branches of study, and can be acquired by any person who has a fair idea of the correct pronunciation and spelling of words.

This school prepares young men and women for amanuensis, office and reportorial work, including Shorthand, Type-writing, Correspondence, Spelling, Grammar, Business Writing, etc.

The Graham system of Shorthand that we use, in all contests among experts is proven to be the best. School in charge of an experienced reporter.

School of Penmanship.—"Writing is a secondary power of speech; hence he who cannot write is in part dumb." Scrawls that cannot be read may be compared to talking that cannot be understood, and writing difficult to decipher, to stammering speech.

In this school ladies and gentlemen and boys and girls are taught a style of writing that is plain, rapid and graceful, adapted to business use and ladies' correspondence.

English Training School.—This is a complete school, offering to ladies and gentlemen of any age, as well as boys and girls, superior advantages for acquiring, in the shortest time, a thorough and practical knowledge of the branches indispensable to success in every-day life.

Branches taught—Practical Arithmetic; pupils are taught time and labor-saving methods, given individual and class instruction. English Grammar, leading students to using language correctly as soon as possible. Spelling, is a written exercise training the mind, the eye and the hand to accuracy. Practical Writing, plain in form, easy to execute and rapid. Letter Writing, in a variety of business and social letters. Business Forms giving a variety of business paper in most approved form, Reading, United States History and Geography.

School of Mechanical and Architectural Drawing.—Young Carpenters taught to thoroughly understand working plans and make designs of buildings. Machinists are taught to work out designs and plans of machinery, so that they can rise to more responsible positions. Free-hand drawing is also taught those desiring it.

When to Enter.—Students are received any business day in the year.

Teachers.—We have a full corps of teachers, men of large experience and superior ability.

Day and Evening Sessions.—Day sessions are during the entire year, evening sessions from September 1st to May.

College Building.—This is an entirely new building of unusual beauty, containing all modern conveniences, most admirably adapted to the needs of the Business University.

FOR PARTICULARS call at the College, or send for Illustrated Catalogue.
