Note that some of these records take us right up to the eve of the Shoah. Many thanks to Judith Springer and Dena Whitman for translating the vital records, to Ellen Garshick for processing the translations and preparing them for the Concordance, and to Adam Bronstein for making the records searchable on our website using Steve Morse's One-Step search system.

All of the pre-release, unedited translation spreadsheets and translated documents as well as the vital records master spreadsheets are available to our donors on our KDRG Contributors website:

<https://sites.google.com/site/kdrgcontributors/documents>

Please contact me (rddpdx@gmail.com) if you need information about how to access the KDRG Contributors website.

If you want to see a list of all the records we have completed, are working on, and are acquiring, download our "Document Acquisitions and Status" spreadsheet from the Kremenets KehilaLinks website. It is the first item at:

<http://kehilalinks.jewishgen.org/Kremenets/web-pages/research-projects.html>

In addition to vital records, Susan Sobel and Ellen Garshick have extracted and processed all Kremenets-related passenger manifests contained in the Ellis Island database (EIDB). The newly extracted records include name and address of the closest relative in the old country as well as name and address of the person at the immigrant's destination. ALL of the names in every record have been indexed and are in the new Concordance. As a special Chanuka gift, you can download from our Kehilalinks website the full EIDB spreadsheet containing extractions for Kremenets (1,392 records, 2,177 names), Shumsk (357 records, 589 names), and Vishnevets (684 records, 1,127 names). Go to:

<http://kehilalinks.jewishgen.org/Kremenets/web-pages/eidb.html>

Many thanks to Sandy Crystall, our webmaster, for posting the spreadsheet on our website.

In cooperation with the Central Archives for the History of the Jewish People (Hebrew University, Jerusalem) we are continuing our search for additional vital records. In a few days, I'll send you a list of records we currently are translating and records we are ordering from the Central Archives. We need your help to acquire and translate these records.

We need your donations to help us keep this work going. All donations are used exclusively to acquire and translate records and documents.

I'm looking forward to hearing from you.

Best wishes,
