It happened in the village of Nowogrod on April 22th, 1886, at 10 a.m.

There appeared the Jew Dawid Kozlowicz, 29 years old, worker, resident of the village Czarnia, together with Iciek Grodner, age 36, and Izrael Iglewicz, age 56, both traders living in the village of Nowogrod, and showed us a child of a female gender announcing that she had been born here in the village of Czarnia on April 16th, this year, of his lawful wife Chajka Rochla nee Zubernski, 25 years old.

This child was given the names Chajka Mindla.

Then this document was read aloud to the client and the witnesses, and signed by us and Grodner only. The father of the child and the other witnesses were illiterate.
