Photographs from the Sveksna Museum Website – May 2018

https://www.facebook.com/sveksnosmuziejus/photos/

Here are some photographs from this site [courtesy of the Museum curator MZ].

Photographs of the streets where Jews once lived.
One of these streets was previously called "Jews Street."

Monika Comment:
This is not Sveksna.
It is Žemaičių Naumiestis.

Photographs of what the Synagogue looks like today

Monika Comment:
These photos are from 2017.

It seems there is a plan to remodel this building. As you will see in "Photographs of Sveksna Today" the Synagogue building is located in the center of the town.

Photographs of the Memorial for the Jews

Photographs of Sveksna Today

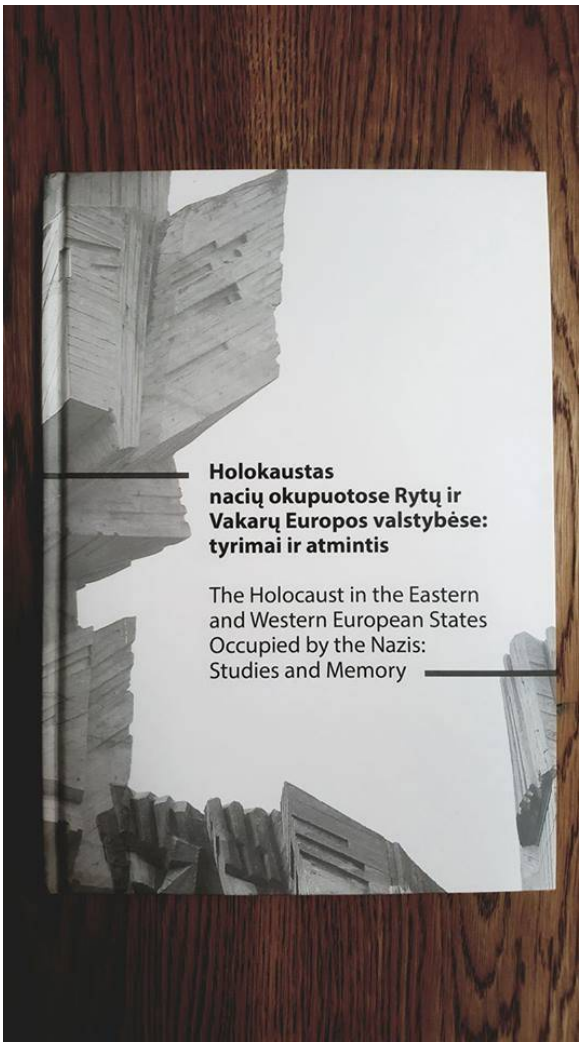

Monika Comment:
This is not Sveksna. It is Šilutė.

Photographs of the Sveksna Museum Exhibitions

Monika Comment:
This painting is not in our museum. It is displayed at the National Museum in Warsaw (Muzeum Narodowe w Warszawie) in Poland.

